

Since 1916, Executives Associations have spread to cities throughout the US and Canada, started by business people sharing industry news with others, and seeking new ways to get an edge on their own competition with the primary purpose of helping other members grow their business by providing direct businesses, referrals, leads and business information.

Today, there are 36 Executives Association Chapters, with over 2,000 business owners, that make up the International Executives Association.

HOW DOES IEA WORK?

The IEA is run by a volunteer Board of Directors, representing chapters all over the US and Canada. Together, they work to create connections, networking opportunities, and value for the membership. From the Ambassador program, to the monthly webinars, support for Executive Directors and more, the IEA is constantly working on ways for members to stay connected.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

- Reach out to businesses in non-competing markets for insight and fellowship
- Grow your circle of influence and form relationships in other cities
- Discover new opportunities and receive referrals from across the continent
- Gain insight on association management challenges and situations
- Find reliable sources globally for both personal and professional needs when you travel, including legal, economic, and medical help or even just discovering the best places to visit during your stay

As a member of your local Executives Association, you are a member of the IEA!
Membership is included in your local chapter dues.

Member Testimonials:

As a member of the Palm Beaches Execs, I was able to connect to a General Contractor in the Charlotte Execs to help with a project I had going on in Charlotte. I found this contractor by using the IEA website and knew he was someone I could trust and rely on because he was a member of IEA.

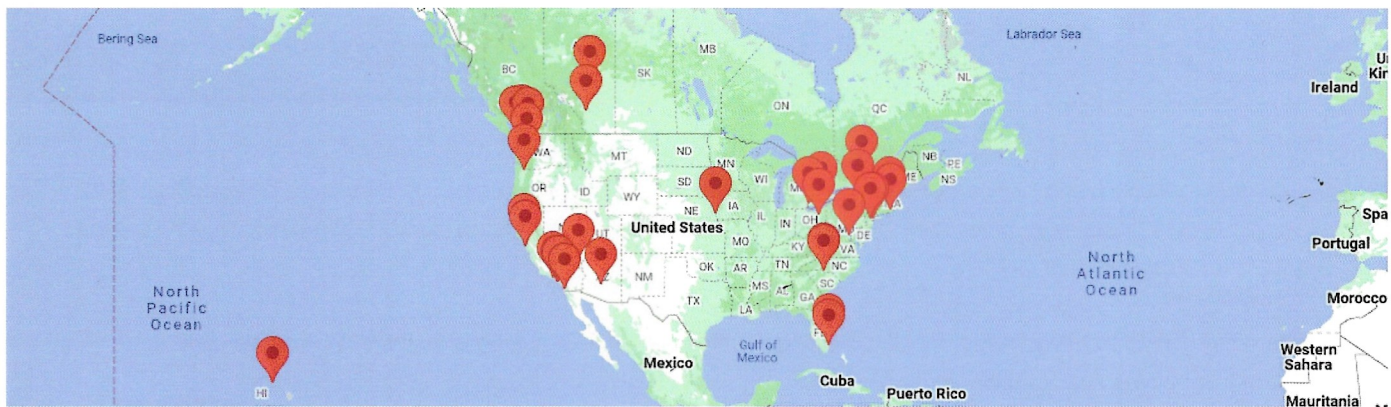

– David Blotnick, Honorary Member, Palm Beaches

A lot of people ask how the IEA can help your business. Sometimes it's a personal connection that matters. My daughter moved to California and didn't know anyone. I connected her to an IEA member there, who agreed to meet my daughter for lunch and that led to my daughter's first two job offers!
